Macroeconomic updates

Macroeconomic updates

Aluminium prices ($/MT)

Alumina prices ($/MT)

- Demand for primary aluminium continue to remain firm across key aluminium intensive sectors like automobiles (especially electric vehicles), construction, renewable energy and packaging.
- Supply remained constrained given higher energy prices in Europe and dual policy measures by China, leading to widening of inventory deficits.
- With trade disengagements from Russia amid geo-political tensions, commodity markets are displaying clear signals of scarcity.
- On overall basis these supply-demand imbalances have led to persistently high-price trajectories for primary aluminium throughout the first three months of 2022.

Net profit  93%
QR 240 million

EBITDA Margin: 38.0%

EPS: QR 0.043   RoAE: 15.1%

- Strong aluminium prices supported by firm demand and constrained supply, reflected in QAMCO's 1Q-22 financial performance
- QAMCO's JV continue to maximize production and sale of value-added products (VAP)
- QAMCO's closing cash balance (including share of cash in QAMCO's JV) stood at QAR 1,201 million

Operational Performance review

Production (MT' 000) – 100%

- 1Q-22 production volumes slightly increased compared to 1Q-21, mainly due to higher amperage.
- 1Q-22 production volumes marginally decreased compared to 4Q-21, mainly due to slightly lower no. of operating days.

Sales volumes (MT' 000) – 100%

- 1Q-22 sales volumes marginally down as compared to 1Q-21.
- 1Q-22 sales volumes declined by 11% versus 4Q-21, as there were certain shipments in transit carried over from 3Q-21 being delivered during 4Q-21, which significantly increased the sales volumes for 4Q-21 in comparison to any other quarter.

Selling prices ($/MT)

- During 1Q-22, selling prices continue to improve on account of overall strength from global aluminum prices amid constructive supply-demand imbalances.

Financial performance review

Share of Revenue (QR million)

- 1Q-22 vs 1Q-21: Share of JV's revenue inclined, mainly due to positive selling price trajectories. This was partially offset by slightly lower sales volumes.
- 1Q-22 vs 4Q-21: Share of JV's revenue decreased, mainly due to lower sales volumes. This was partially offset by higher average selling prices.

QAMCO's Net Profit (QR million)

- 1Q-22 vs 1Q-21: Profitability improved mainly due to continued uptick in aluminium prices with better realized premiums. This was partially offset by higher COGS & shipping cost, with slightly lower sales volumes.
- 1Q-22 vs 4Q-21: Profitability lowered on account of lower sales volumes coupled with higher COGS and shipping cost. This was partially offset by higher average selling prices.

Share of JV's Debt (QR million)

Share of debt slightly increased on account of additional drawdown on loan facility.

Net Profit Variance Analysis

1Q-22 vs. 1Q-21

(Amounts in QR' million)

QAMCO reported a net profit of QR 240 million, an increase in profitability by 93% compared to 1Q-21.

QAMCO's 1Q-22 results were affected by Joint Venture performance mainly due to:

► Favorable movements

- Higher average realized prices (+51%), along with better premiums;
- Savings on account of lower finance cost;
- Others: lower impairments, savings from Head-office expenses and higher finance income from fixed deposits.

► Unfavorable movements

- Higher cost of goods sold, mainly on account higher raw material costs, partially offset by favorable inventory movements;
- Slightly lower sales volumes;
- Higher shipping cost due to global supply chain constraints.

Net Profit Variance Analysis

1Q-22 vs. 4Q-21

QAMCO reported a net profit of QR 240 million, a decline in profitability by 23% compared to 4Q-21.

QAMCO's 1Q-22 results were affected by Joint Venture performance mainly due to:

- ▶ Unfavorable movements
  - a) Lowered sales volumes (-11%);
  - b) Higher cost of goods sold, mainly on account higher raw material costs, partially offset by favorable inventory movements;
  - c) Higher shipping cost due to continued global supply chain constraints.
- ▶ Favorable movements
  - a) Higher average realized prices (+7%), along with better premiums;
  - b) Others: savings on account of lower impairments, with savings from Head-office expenses and higher finance income on fixed deposits.

Analysis of Selling Prices

Selling prices ($/MT)

- Average selling prices improved due to persistent strength from constructive macroeconomic environment leading to a better demand for aluminium products at a global scale, coupled with supply constraints.
- LME premiums improved mainly due to favorable product mix and better global demand for premium aluminium products.

Analysis of EBITDA margins

QAMCO's JV EBITDA margins continue to remain robust & resilient

Recent decline in QoQ EBITDA margins was mainly linked to high priced feedstock being consumed during the recent quarters

Geographic analysis – QAMCO JV revenue

Asia remained QAMCO JV's largest market, while its presence in US and Europe continued to be substantial

QAMCO JV revenue – product mix (%)

- Extrusion ingots along with foundry alloys (together referred to as value added or premium products) remains key products for QAMCO's JV.
